

Grant Unto Me a Robe of Light

Baptismal refrain: Psalm 31/32, 32/33

Unknown

Grant un - to me the robe of light, for you clothe your-self,

O most mer - ci - ful Christ our Lord.

DL 8 J

Verses of Psalm 31/32:

Blessed are those whose iniquities are forgiven, whose sins are covered.
Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not reckon sin, and in whose mouth there is no guile.

Because I kept silent, my bones grew weak through my crying all day long,
for by day and night my grief was heavy upon me;
I was reduced to nothing within me, and my heart stuck fast in me.

I have confessed my iniquities, and my sin I have not hidden.
I said: "I will confess my iniquities before the Lord,"
and You forgave the ungodliness of my heart.

For thou shalt expect, O Lord, that is holy pray to You in a seasonable time.
In a flood of many waters they shall not come near him.
You are my refuge from affliction that surrounds me;
O my joy, deliver me from the evildoers around me.

I will instruct you and teach you in the way which you shall go: I will fix my eyes on You.
Be not as the horse or the mule, which have no understanding, whose jaws must be held with bit and bridle, or else they will not come near you.

Many are the sorrows of the sinner; but mercy shall surround him who hopes in the Lord.
Be glad in the Lord and rejoice, you righteous; exult, all you upright of heart.